LAMINATING FILMS

High quality Presco OPP thermal laminating films for all print. Laminating digital print doesn't need to be complicated, you may just need to use a stronger adhesive, like our level 5 or level 7 films.

GUIDE TO FILM ADHESIVE STRENGTH LEVELS

FOR LAMINATING FILMS

ADHESIVE LEVEL

3 The industry standard for everyday laminating but is not suitable for heavy ink coverage and some digital work.

5 Level 5 is the highest adhesion available from most suppliers. Digital printers are increasingly using this for reliable results.

7 The top level when no other laminate will stick. It will give a super high adhesion.

LAMINATION & ENCAPSULATION - WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE?

The word 'laminating' is used to talk about laminating, pouch laminating and encapsulating, but there are differences. Lamination is usually a single sided process for enhancement of print. Encapsulation is a double sided process that completely seals the print and is primarily for protection, not enhancement, of print. Pouch laminators completely enclose the print, so they are actually mini encapsulation machines, not laminators! New digital laminates for use with roll laminators now have many different options to enhance your print and transform it into something special.

ENCAPSULATION FILMS

These films vary from laminating films as they are always applied to both sides of the substrate at the same time.

The 75 micron to 250 micron films are much thicker than laminating films and there is more adhesive on them. In particular, the 125 micron and 250 micron films will stick successfully to almost any printed work (subject to testing first).

Ibiwire binding wires are a niche form of wire binding. They are spaced to fit the punched hole usually used for plastic comb binding. The holes can be punched with any plastic comb binding machine, but a separate wire closer is needed. There are very few comb binding machines that incorporate a wire closer. Ibiwire hole spacing is exactly the same as for A4 21 ring combs. A4 Ibiwires have 21 loops. Pack size 100.

DRILL BITS

The most common drill bit style fitting. 85mm length with 50mm cutting depth to fit Babs, Citoborma, Corta, Foelmer, NFPE, Frewa, Kobold, Hang, Pescha, Uchida, Concorde, Stago-Zellar, Venus, Iram & Oslo drills. The tungsten coated grade versions are longer lasting and need sharpening less often, so they are ideal for large amounts of drilling. The Teflon coated drill bits create less friction and are particularly suited for laminated work. Note that the 3mm and 4mm drill bits only have a cutting depth of 30mm.
